Writers Declare Mr. Wilson's Note Makes No Distinction Between Nations Who Provoked War and Those It Was Forced Upon—Forgets Belgium and the U-Boat Warfare

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Dec. 23.—President Wilson's note and the statement of Secretary Lansing continue to be the sensations of the day and take precedence over everything else in the morning papers. The president's action by no means meets with favor among the commentators who only vary in the manner of expressing their opinion.

The principal reproach is in the words of Stephen Pichon, who, writing in the Petit Journal says: "The note makes no distinction between the states who provoked the war and those upon whom it was forced. The belligerents, whoever they are, see themselves treated in the same manner by President Wilson. He does not remember either the violation of Belgian neutrality, the crimes of the submarine warfare or any of the monstrous acts which revolted the conscience of his compatriots and that of the civilized world. We should be lacking the first of our duties in not holding it up as an outrage to our honor and our dignity."

George Clemenceau, former premier in his newspaper L'Homme encloses says:

"The moral side of the war has escaped President Wilson. He puts on the same footing all of the belligerents without asking for what reason each of them is fighting. Failing to take into consideration these imponderables he believes himself just when he speaks to all in the same terms. He has not felt that the ends of the war could not be understood in the same way by both sides and consequently it would seem almost blasphemous to hear it said that 'the objects seem the same on both sides'."

Lincoln's answer to the French and British offers to mediate between North and South in 1863 is freely quoted and analogies are drawn between the situation then and now.

"What citizen of the United States would blame us if we answered Wilson as Lincoln answered the mediators then?" asks the Reho De Paris.

The Matin says: "The American note is certainly inspired by high sentiments. It is doubtful whether it is opportune. It comes at a moment when it is to every interest of Germany to stop or slacken hostilities."

"It comes after the four ringing declarations of Sonnino, Pokrovsky, Briand and Lloyd George."

The Temps, referring to President Wilson's note asks:

REPORT TORREON IS CAPTURED BY VILLA'S REBELS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

El Paso, Dec. 23.—Unconfirmed reports that Torreon had been captured by Francisco Villa's forces were forwarded to Washington by government agents early today.

These reports stated that the fighting started early yesterday morning and continued until one o'clock in the afternoon when the city capitulated.

Santa Rosalia, 75 miles southeast of Chihuahua City, was captured December 12 by Villa forces, according to a message received today by an El Paso man who owns property in Santa Rosalia. Three hundred Carranza soldiers who had entrained there to go to Chihuahua City were captured and nearly all, including their commander, were executed, the message said. No property was destroyed.

It also was reported that Jose Yuez Salazar was attacking Chihuahua City and that Villa was approaching Jimenez on his way north to participate in this attack. The telegraph lines are cut south of Chihuahua City. Carranza officials here insist they have no news of the fighting at Torreon and that there is fighting at Chihuahua City.

A message from General Francisco Murgia, military commander at Chihuahua City denying that Torreon has been captured by Villa's forces was received by Eduardo Sorianio Bravo, Carranza consul here. General Murgia also denied that Jose Yuez Salazar had attacked Chihuahua City from the south.

Women Hungry For Food, Stone Dresden Stores

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Dec. 23.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegram company says that there were food riots in Dresden on Dec. 17, 18 and 19, especially on the 19th when troops were called to help the police in suppressing the trouble, which arose from the closing of several food shops on Sunday because they were without stocks. The dispatch says the women stoned the shops on Sunday and then marched through the streets but the police did not interfere. There was another parade on Monday when the parades passed on the king's palace shouting for food. Several women are said to have been arrested for using insulting language about the king. The disturbances were renewed on Tuesday when a sharp fight occurred in which 100 women and three policemen are reported to have been wounded. The soldiers then charged the crowds and cleared the streets.

BUFFALO YOUTH IS FOUND GUILTY BY MURDER JURY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Buffalo, Dec. 23.—Guilty of murder in the second degree was the verdict returned by a jury late yesterday against John Edward Teiper charged with having killed his mother last January. The jury deliberated 29 hours.

The verdict broke the iron nerve of the young defendant who throughout the long trial had given no sign of emotion. As the foreman of the jury announced the verdict Teiper's strong frame seemed to crumble. His knees sagged, and he had to fall to the floor he had not been caught by a deputy. "Oh, my God," he shrieked as he struggled to rise, "this is not fair this isn't human."

In all of the balloting up to the last vote, it was said, 11 jurors had stood for a first degree conviction. One man, according to report, held out against that verdict because the evidence was circumstantial. He could not be won over, so the compromise verdict was given.

The sentence prescribed for second degree murder is a minimum of 20 years' imprisonment.

NEUTRAL

Committee Presents Appeal From British Pacifist to President Wilson

LETTER WAS UNCENSORED

Gril Brings Message Which Asks President Wilson to End Conflict In Europe—Declares Victory For Either Side is Impossible—Opportunity to Serve Humanity

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Dec. 23.—A special committee of the American neutral conference committee left here early today for Washington to present to President Wilson a letter from Bertrand Russell, the noted British pacifist, lecturer and philosopher, appealing to the President to end the war in Europe. The committee consists of George Foster Peabody, Paul U. Kellogg and Miss Emily Greene Balch.

The letter was brought to this country by an unnamed and otherwise unidentified messenger from England, a girl, in order to evade the British censor. After asserting that the President now has an opportunity of performing a signal service to mankind, "surpassing the service of Abraham Lincoln," Mr. Russell stated, that it is within the President's power "to bring the war to an end by a just peace" and that if the war be allowed to continue it may be too late to save European civilization from destruction. The letter says in part:

"The military situation has now developed to the point where the ultimate issue is clear, in its broad outlines to all who are capable of thought. It must be obvious to the authorities in all the belligerent countries that no victory for either side is possible. In Europe the Germans have the advantage; outside of Europe and at sea the allies have the advantage. Neither side is able to win such a crushing victory as to compel the other side to sue for peace. The war inflicts untold injuries upon the nations, but such injuries as to make a continuance of the fighting impossible."

"The allies' governments have not had the courage to acknowledge publicly what they cannot deny, that the hope of a sweeping victory is one which can now scarcely be entertained. For want of the courage they are prepared to involve Europe in the horrors of a continuation of the war, possibly for another two or three years. This situation is intolerable to every human man. You sir, can put an end to it. Your power constitutes an opportunity and a responsibility; and from your previous actions I feel confident that you will use your power with a degree of vision and humanity rarely to be found among statesmen."

"Everywhere, friends of peace are met with the diabolical argument that brave men who have died must not have shed their blood in vain. And so every impulse of mercy toward the soldiers who are still living is dried up and withered by a false and barren loyalty to those who are past our help. Even the men with

Prisoner Eludes Sheriff and Visits Brother at Co. Jail

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Thomas Schaffer, held in the county jail awaiting a grand jury hearing on a charge of burglarizing the home of J. A. Berry, 115 Dewey avenue Friday night, had a visitor. It was his brother, William Schaffer, of Wellsville, who, passing through the city enroute to Columbus, dropped off the train to pay his kin a visit at the jail. And while the brothers visited and exchanged experiences since they had last met, the sheriff returned to Newark and accompanied by Patrolman Williams began a search for his prisoner.

Schaffer was found at the Baltimore and Ohio station and placed under arrest. He said a desire to visit his brother prompted him to elude the sheriff when the train reached Newark.

Believes All Neutrals Are Interested In Obtaining More Light On Objects of Belligerents—France is Ready to Accept Any Solution to Bring Free Development of Humanity

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Dec. 23, 11:45 a. m.—The only reference to President Wilson's note at the public sitting of the chamber of deputies was made by Deputy Renaudel, who expressed the belief that it would compel Germany to tell plainly her war aims. Deputy Renaudel made his brief reference in announcing that the socialist party would vote for the appropriations for the six months of 1917, which were subsequently passed. He said:

"Today the president of the United States of America asks the belligerents to make known their views as to the object of the war. We do not wish to judge his intention. We only wish to see this neutrals, guided by us, to a concern for justice and right, helping to obtain more light. Our enemies can no longer now keep making halting statements, they must speak out clearly. We do not fear that they can trouble the minds of the soldiers of the republic who, to win back peace have covered their country with glory. Let our governments make known to the whole world that the allied peoples, always wishful for peace and never afraid of war, are ready to accept any solution which, having repaired the injustice of force, shall organize the nations for the salvation of civilization and the free development of humanity."

In the lobbies of the chamber of deputies the note was the subject of all the conversations among the deputies who, without exception, agreed in paying homage to the sentiments which inspired President Wilson to take his step, but gave expression unanimously to the opinion that in the present state of affairs his suggestion could not be the result he expects from it—that is to say the establishment of a lasting peace.

The views of the members of the chamber as thus given expression, are in substance as follows:

"The French nation knows and appreciates the loyal friendship of the people of the United States in general, the two countries having a common idea of justice and liberty. It is in defense of this ideal that France that nearly thirty months has gone through a war which she did try to avoid."

"The methods of warfare of the enemies of France, from which neutrals also have suffered directly or indirectly, are declared to have forfeited the resolution of France so to act that a repetition of such calamities shall be impossible in the future. It is to assure the incontestable enjoyment of her right to live that France is fighting and will continue to fight. The deputies declare, then, that it is only when these objects have been adequately attained for which they are ready to make fresh sacrifices—that attention can be turned to the constitution of an ideal Europe and that it is the duty of the nations of the entente to demand formal guarantees to this end and the assurance that they will be respected."

LONDON COMMENT ON AMERICAN NOTE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Dec. 23.—The American note to the belligerent nations still is the dominating feature of the news in Great Britain today. It even overshadows dispatches from the battle fronts and discussion of the government's program for organizing the entire country for war purposes."

Practically all the newspapers continue to devote leading articles to the note while British, French, German and other comment is prominently displayed under such headings as "Lansing's Verge of War Blunder," "The Share of Peace," and "Wilson's Mistake."

So far as Great Britain is concerned the press says that President Wilson already has been answered by Premier Lloyd George when he delivered in the house of commons on Tuesday his speech in reply to the German proposals, by the address made on Thursday night by Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, and finally by the emphatic declaration of the cabinet through the king's speech on programming parliament.

However, it is recognized in official circles that a formal, polite reply is due President Wilson, and this, it is said, will be drafted

OF THE TELEGRAPH HAVE BEEN MANIFOLD IN RE-CENT YEARS.

Now Possible to Send Christmas Gifts to Distant Cities Within a Couple of Hours.

The development along various lines of service to the public, has in no instance been carried to a greater degree of efficiency than it has by the Western Union Telegraph company, and most of this betterment has been accomplished within a comparatively few years. It has now reached almost the acme of perfection and it is difficult to realize how it could be improved. It is not a far way back to the days when a telegraph office was in a dingy upstairs room, and messages were few and far between. When the operator went to his meals (and upon other occasions) the office was locked and the public awaited his convenience. A telegram was sent only upon an occasion of emergency like death or illness or the most urgent business necessity.

By far the most business, bulk considered, was sent over the wire by newspaper correspondents of metropolitan dailies, this however, bringing in a reduced revenue as it was sent press rates, much below the regular.

How different all this now is conducted. The Western Union office is on the ground floor, easy of access from the Arcade. There has never been a key in the front door since this well equipped office was opened, and operators are on duty there every minute of the 24 hours. There is not a kind of communication that is not at the service of the public.

The management is under Mr. R. L. Rhodes, who the patrons of the office hope will be continued at the Newark office indefinitely. He is courteous, capable, and popular with all.

The latest innovation to be announced by the company, is the sending of Christmas gifts by telegraph, and this new use makes its appeal instantly as of great practical benefit.

Any one wishing to send flowers to a friend in a distant city, may have forgotten it until Christmas morning. It is now possible for him to go to a Western Union office, pay the amount intended to be expended for the gift, plus the telegraph toll, and in an hour or two the flowers will be delivered to the friend with the donor's card, fresh from the florist. Other gifts may be sent in the same manner, and if it's desired they will be bought at some specified dealer's.

The first radical departure from the routine of short commercial telegrams at regular and press matter at reduced rates, was the "night letter," by the use of which 50 words can be sent at night for delivery the next morning, for the same rate as a regular 10 word day message. By this method 50 words can be sent from Newark to San Francisco for one dollar.

Then followed the "day letter," which is 50 words sent during the day when the wire are not so busy, for the regular day rate, plus one-half of this rate. For instance, if the regular rate to New York is 40 cents for ten words, a day letter can be sent for 60 cents.

Then the company expanded its cable business, introducing the "day letter," which may be sent to London or Liverpool. The rate for this kind of communication is 12 words for $1.15, the regular rate being 21 cents a word. This letter is delivered within 24 hours in London or Liverpool, or will be telephoned or telegraphed to any part of Great Britain at the regular rates prevailing there.

Then came the "letter of 27 words" may be sent for $1.55, and this is still another kind of "night letter" message" analogous to the "day letter," that is, it is sent at night when the cables are not in use, about 12-12 cents per word.

The Western Union has developed many kinds of messages words, especially appropriate to some occasion. This is a boon to those not used to the condensation of ideas into a few words. Among the forms are those for messages of condolence, Easter, Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving meetings, congratulations upon a birthday, wed'ning, child's birth, in fact for almost any occasion a form can be found for the sender.

ment are provoking the indignation of people in the United States to a side. In a word, one can put in the same order words which pass and acts which remain or believe something which at the same time develops deep. Evidently not.

As to the harm caused by the war this is certain but it is not in the power of any belligerent to avoid it absolutely. Furthermore, there are two kinds of hard. On the one hand there are the inevitable consequences of war, search at sea, blockade and similar things; on the other hand there are assassination, violation of the written law, torpedoing of neutral ships with the drowning of women and children.

Can a single act of this latter kind be imputed to the allies? Everybody knows there cannot. In Germany these acts are codified in a doctrine. On land and sea a systematic disregard of the rules made by countries of civilization is at the basis of the direction of the war. War is made, as it is declared, in the sovereign name of force. Christmas.

Christmas of 1916 is nearly here and as this is the last issue of The Advocate before the advent of that happy day, the management takes this opportunity of expressing to the readers and patrons of the paper the sincere wish that the coming holiday may be the most joyous they have ever spent.

Almost every line of industry in Newark during the last year has experienced success from a financial standpoint, and while man's true happiness "consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth," yet this material prosperity is indissolubly linked with the opportunity to do good at this season, and to bring happiness to the hearts of thousands.

The exchange of gifts between members of families, friends both far and near is a beautiful custom, and we believe that the majority of people feel the truth of the old proverb, "it is more blessed to give than to receive," and thus experience a happiness based upon the true foundation of unselfishness. Almost every one appreciates a remembrance, especially at the yule tide, not from a consideration of its intrinsic value, but from an accurate perception of the spirit that prompts the giving.

Yet the opportunity is broader and more significant, taking in a wider circle than that of family, a more extensive sphere than that of personal friendship. It is bounded only by the limits of the philosophy of Jesus Christ, which is epitomized in the love of God and the universal brotherhood of man; these are infinite.

At this time which commemorates the Saviour's birth, the mind should turn to a consideration of the principle of unselfish giving, from motives of love, as expressed in the words, "For God so LOVED the WORLD that He GAVE His ONLY BEGOTTEN SON."

We should in our giving, take into consideration those less fortunate than we, aim to give not only material comfort and happiness, but encouragement, cheer, and inspiration to those who feel that their burden is almost more than they can bear. This is an exemplification of the true spirit of Christ who "went about doing good."

Besides individual benefactions, several organized efforts have been put forth in Newark that have met with such a generous response that the poor will be well taken care of. The noble response to these calls reflects credit upon Newark's citizenship.

Christmas is a festival celebrated in great part with a view to making happy the children. It is the little ones' holiday, and at no other time does the little hearts so palpitate with joyous anticipation, and happy realization than at Christmas. We who are older might well enter into this child-like spirit and next Monday there will be an added brightness to our joys and a keener relish to our pleasures on that day.

What is being done for the unfortunate in Newark has its counterpart in almost every city in the Daily History Class—Dec. 23.

1783—Thomas Macdonough, hero of a brilliant victory over the British on Lake Champlain Sept. 11, 1814, born; died 1825.

1895—Stepaniuk, Russian author and revolutionist, died; born 1841.

county although statistics are not yet available.

The percentage placed with the local premium companies also is much greater than ever before, in proportion to that written by fraternal and industrial companies. In local premium companies the rate is a fixed one, and this feature is appealing more strongly than ever to insurance buyers.

It is true that joint efforts are being made by old line companies to eliminate all sub-standard underwriters, as it is indisputable that the more poor risks taken lessens dividends profits, and benefit paid to beneficiaries.

In this connection the Licking County Life Underwriters' association has been found recently having for its object to cling more closely to sound principles of insurance business. This association should include every reputable company doing business in Licking county.

A distinguishing feature of the past year is the attention being paid by manufacturing and industrial corporations to policies written upon the life of one or more members of the corporation and payable in case of death of the insured, to the corporation.

There is more of this kind of insurance carried by Newark concerns than the general public conceives.

Tidings of Great Joy.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good-will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us go now even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. — Luke 2: 8-16.

In giving a book as a Christmas present people make the mistake of writing in the name of the recipient, as then it can't be passed on next Christmas.

After giving to the war sufferers about one per cent. of the extra profits made out of the war, the United States feels entitled to a lot of credit for its generosity.

Football gives way to the inter-collegiate debates, but the successful debaters need not expect to be carried out of the hall on the shoulders of their fellow students.

It is expected that the new dance, the Prosperity Crawl, will bring prosperity to the dancing teachers.

Story of a Carload of Eggs.

A carload of Indiana eggs was sold and resold ten times between the time the consignment left Haddonfield at 24 1-2 cents a dozen and the time of the final sale at 43 cents to a fashionable New York hotel. All the intermediate sales were made while the eggs remained in one storage house. Demonstrating that the only egg quality which improves with age is the price.

That Pompey's Pillar is the name of a celebrated column standing in the neighborhood of Alexandria? It stands upon an eminence about 1800 feet south of the walls. It is a monolith of red granite, and of the Corinthian order, and stands upon a pedestal. Its total height is ninety-eight feet and nine inches; shaft, seventy-three feet; twenty-nine feet eight inches in circumference. The shaft is well executed. Granville

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, December 23.—The heaviest snow in years fell at the psychological moment when it was possible to work the greatest inconvenience to the greatest number of people. Students who were unable to leave town on the early electric yesterday were tied up here for hours looking for some means of transportation for themselves and baggage, as no cars ran after the 9:30, was ditched in a snow bank half way to Newark. The bus was overloaded every trip and even private automobiles were pressed into service as taxicabs before the hundreds of outgoing passengers were finally accommodated. The congestion in Friday's traffic was somewhat relieved by the fact that probably 100 or 150 of the young people remained for the various Christmas parties given by the fraternities last night.

Mr. Robert G. Bell of Queens, Long Island, arrived yesterday afternoon via Toledo, as a holiday guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Case. Mrs. Bell arrived a few days earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kier expect a holiday visit from their daughter, Miss Viola Kier, of New York City, and their son, Mr. Harold Kier, of Dayton.

Rev. David Barre, who has been rector of St. Luke's for the past two years, has been transferred by the bishop of this diocese to St. Andrews church at Washington Courthouse, and will leave for his new charge about Jan. 1.

The stockholders of the Granville bank company will hold their annual meeting in the bank on Tuesday evening, Jan. 2, for the purpose of electing directors and such other business as may come up.

Miss Mabel Moore, who has been teaching in Covington, Ky., has arrived in Granville at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore, in South Mulberry street.

Immediately after Christmas the Engewson chorus will begin work on "Hiawatha" for the spring concert. New members are invited to join for this presentation. Attendance on 75 per cent of all rehearsals is required before singing the festival.

Individual cash contributors to the A. F. F. W. work during the last week were: Mrs. Isabel Raymond, Mr. T. M. Kier, Mrs. S. P. Johnston, Mr. C. C. Robinson, Phi Gamma Delta, Sixth grade public schools. Those giving completed articles: Mrs. C. B. Evans, Mrs. Susan Wright, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Loughridge, Mrs. William Howe, Mrs. Anna Campbell, Mrs. McCollum, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. R. W. Soule, Mrs. E. P. Johnston, Mrs. Thorberg, Mr. J. M. Jones, Ruby Gosnell (aged 9) Carrie Mae Johnson (aged 9), Verne Frye, High school and Eighth grade, 30 pillows; other grade school children 2 pillows. "Clipperings" were furnished in great quantities by Mrs. Biggs, Miss Mary Shepardson, Chassie Young, (aged 8) and Mary Jane Henderson (aged 9). The rooms will be open all day next Tuesday, Dec. 26, in the hope that some may find it possible to devote a little time to this cause.

Beta Theta Pi threw wide the hospitable portals of Curtis hall, Friday evening and entertained twenty-five couples at a charming dinner-dance. The menu was elaborate, and the music furnished by a three-piece orchestra during dinner and afterwards for the dancing was of high merit. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Burton Case, Mrs. Corinne Lockman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell of Queens, Long Island, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Soule, Misses Pauline Ireland, Evelyne Cathcart, Madeleine Edgerly, Sara Taylor, Sara Palmer, Ruth Eldridge, Lillian Eldridge, Freda Rummel, Marjorie Lockman, Marian Kendall, Edith Wilson, Katherine Wood, Helen Ray, all of Shepardson College, Miss Frances Jones of Bryn Mawr, Miss Martha Wright of Newark, Miss Sue Walker of Newark, Miss Geiger of Bucyrus, Miss Graft of Middle-town, Miss Swetland of Mt. Vernon, Miss Dale of Troy, Mr. Fair Adams, Mr. Herlen Hopkins of Newark.

Phi Gamma Delta entertained on Friday evening with a handsomely appointed dinner dance preceded by a reception when the guests were treated to a Christmas tree where gifts were exchanged by the guests, and every one received at least one token. Parker's saxophone orchestra of Columbus furnished the music during dinner and for the dancing which followed. Covers were laid for 28 couples of whom the out of town girls were: Miss Conklin of Dayton; Miss Sutton, Miss Sullivan, Miss Seymour of Ashtabula; Miss Pennell of Van Wert; Miss Treat of Union City, Pa.; Miss Evans of Oberlin; Miss Slack of Zanesville; Miss Mesmer of Xenia; Miss Hunt of McChesneyburg, and Misses Hubbert.

Helen Lockhart, Wyckoff, Ruth Atwell, Hencke, Josephine Darrow, Louise Hamblen, Juliet Barker, Laura Prior, Laura Trice, and Gertrude Smith.

Zollars, Jr., Canton, Ohio, Harold L. Kier, Dayton, Ohio, W. C. Woodward, Buffalo, N. Y., Arthur Prouty, Hillsboro, O.

The Christmas programs by the two departments of the Baptist Sunday school Friday afternoon and evening were the finest attempted here in years. The primary pupils with Mrs. Robert Biggs as director gave a Christmas cantata, "The Story of a Star," and the intermediate pupils directed by Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Johnson, gave a beautiful and impressive Christmas allegory which was most successfully staged in the large lecture room. The effects were new and striking and the children entered into their parts with zest.

At the Baptist church tomorrow the pastor Rev. Millard Breitford will conduct both services, subject, morning sermon, "Our Peace"; of the evening discourse, "The Messiah in Song, Psalm, and Prophecy."
